Executive Summary
Integrated Care System (ICS)
Feedback was provided on the draft strategy shared at board in December. The ICS has since submitted the strategy and conversations have moved the focus towards a delivery plan. A group of interested parties meet with Lucy Dadge, the executive director of integration. The ICS has been supporting the wider system with the declaration of a critical incident as a result of increasing demand.
Provider Collaborative at Scale
A planning workshop is being coordinated for 12 January. Attendance will include Nottinghamshire Healthcare Trust, Nottingham University Hospitals, Bassetlaw and East Midlands Ambulance Service. The outputs expected include agreement on resource requirements of the collaborative work during 2023 and priorities for delivery.

The chairs and chief executives met on 12 December. The emergent picture is a vehicle for large providers to come together on key complex issues being faced where joint solutions make most sense. Rather than a vessel by which the integrated care system delegates work downwards

Place Based Partnership and Our Wider Anchor Responsibilities

The three health and wellbeing groups aligned to each local authority have been focussing action to tackle the cost of living and energy price increases. An example is attached for boards awareness.

Mansfield Civic Ceremony

The trust attended an evening civic service of thanksgiving to the community and our partners across education, councils and community leaders. Members of the public joined in a celebration mixed with music and readings.

Arts, Culture and Heritage Compact

The trust chairs a compact across Mansfield and Ashfield. Supported by Nottingham Trent University and members from the provider and commissioner sector, the compact brings together partners to raise aspirations of young people locally and to raise the sector's contribution to people's overall health and wellbeing. An expression of interest for Arts Council funding has been submitted to fund the continuation of the compact. Captivate are leading a piece of work targeted towards people who are learning disabled, autistic or have ADHD.

Vision West Nottinghamshire

The chair and CEO, accompanied by the director of people and director of strategy and partnerships attended the college to jointly sign a strategic compact. Following the successful trainee nurse associate programme led through our Executive Nurse, SFH and VWNC have agreed to a longer term strategic compact that delivers not only a future workforce pipeline but also being a valuable partner to the education sector.

The Board are asked to NOTE the update.
