

Do you use any of these?

The Information Governance Team must be informed of any device which connects to your computer and stores data.

This includes memory sticks, portable hard drives, Dictaphones, memory card and media card readers.

In the coming weeks any devices that can store data which the Information Governance team are not aware of will be blocked.