With you every step of the way

Following feedback from our families about how we can improve your birthing experience, King's Mill Hospital are able to offer the option for partners/supporters of women/birthing people to be able to stay overnight on our maternity ward.

If you would like for your partner/supporter to stay, please let your midwife know when you arrive at hospital in labour or for your planned Caesarean section.

If you require any further information, please speak to your community midwife.

What to bring with you

You should bring your hospital bag as normal. If your partner/supporter is going to be staying overnight with you then they will need to bring:

- A pillow
- Slippers
- Pyjamas/comfortable clothing
- Snacks and money to purchase meals as these are not provided
- Blanket.

What will be provided

The midwives' primary concern is for the woman/birthing person; however, a birthing partner/supporter can stay overnight to support the person on the maternity ward after they have given birth. Your partner/supporter will be provided with a recliner chair and hot/cold drinks.

Requirements for a partner/supporter for an overnight stay

- Please keep conversations quiet and don't make non-essential telephone calls between 10pm and 7am.
- Please do not walk around the ward or leave the ward between 10pm and 7am.
- Please remain fully clothed at all times and shower/attend to personal care at home.

Car parking charges

First 15 minutes	FREE	Four to six hours	£5.50
Up to one hour	£1.80	Six to 24 hours	£7.00
One to four hours	£3.50

What to expect on the ward:

- For partners/supporters staying in shared bays the visitor toilet is located between B and C bays. Partners/supporters in side rooms may use the ensuite toilets located in the rooms. Side rooms are prioritised for families expecting prolonged stays, with babies on the Neonatal Unit or anybody with a clinical need.
- Tea/coffee rounds are completed during the day by a ward hostess. Overnight there are facilities to make your own hot drinks.
- A vending machine is located on the landing outside the maternity ward.

How partners/supporters can help you:

- Support with the baby
- Help you to lift the baby
- Help you get drinks/food
- Support with personal care (if you wish).
