Pregnancy testing before surgery in children

When you come into hospital for any x-ray based tests, operation or procedures where certain medicines are given, you will be asked to provide a sample of urine to be tested for pregnancy.

This is a nationwide recommendation for all females of any age who are of child bearing potential (e.g. 12 years and over OR earlier if have started their periods). We ask to perform the test on all females whether the female is sexually active or not.

We believe that, although there are a very small number of pregnancies in this age group, testing all patients is the most effective way of avoiding the risk of harm. With your consent, or that of an adult with parental responsibility, we can then proceed to fully manage the health problem you are admitted to hospital with in the safest possible manner. We are aware of how stressful any admission can be for patients and their relatives, and hope you recognise the reasons for requesting a pregnancy test in this way.

You will be updated with the result of the pregnancy test. If a pregnancy test is unexpectedly positive, this will be communicated with the young person and family in an appropriate way. Other actions and support may be necessary which will be discussed with you at the time. If a pregnancy test is declined, we would then need to discuss the safest way of proceeding with your care.

Your understanding is greatly appreciated.
